FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Sean Smith Quartet Releases "Antiquity" on hiTrecords

hiTrecords is proud to introduce the debut single by The Sean Smith Quartet, "Antiquity," to be released on August 12, 2022.

Not long ago, world-renowned bass player and composer Sean Smith woke up one morning with a melody he could not forget. He made a couple of inscriptions and promptly forgot about it. The next morning, the same few notes appeared. This time, he sat down at his piano and worked out the tune in its entirety. That gorgeous, evocative melody became the theme for his new single on hiTrecords, "Antiquity." In March of this year, The Sean Smith Quartet, comprised of Grégoire Maret/chromatic harmonica, Nate Radley/guitar, Russell Meissner/drums and Sean Smith/acoustic bass, gathered at The Lethe Lounge in New York City to record the song. Produced by Sean Smith and Tom Donald, the track is a moving look at recollection and contemplation.
